proved especially that the local officers and members become acquainted with the actual conditions in families where all was being given from the fund as this would prevent abuse of the privilege of aid from the fund of which, said today, there have been some flagrant examples in the state that have used up money that could have been applied to cases of real need.

DEMAND FOR WOMEN ON GOV. LEN SMALL JURY
Waukegan, Ill., April 3.—(By the A. P.) A demand for women on the jury was made by Governor Len Small, on charges of conspiring with Fred Eastling, lieutenant-governor, and Vernon Curtis, a Great Park banker, to subvert the state police, which was made today by the attorney general, J. Edgar Hoover. They attacked the legality of the jury panel because the Lake county board of supervisors had failed to include in it the names of women.

The attorneys for the state obtained 42 hours delay to prepare their answer. Counsel for the governor read an affidavit signed by him asserting that the board of supervisors had failed to comply with the legal requirement that names of ten per cent. of the qualified voters be placed in the jury box and had listed only male voters.

Should the governor's contention be upheld and women seated, the Lake county court house may have to be remodelled before the trial can be held. The court house has one large dormitory with 100 beds, built for the army and as Illinois laws forbid separation of jury men, some arrangement would have to be made to furnish privacy for the women jurors. Judge Edwards has already announced that he will grant a continuance of the trial which is expected to last anywhere from three to five months.

EXIGIONS IN CONFLICT FOR CONTROL IN LAWRENCE
Lawrence, Mass., April 3.—(By the A. P.)—The One Big Union today intensified a struggle in the textile strike situation. At a mass meeting of its followers and others on the common, Ben Leeger, of the O. B. U., proposed a resolution rescinding the leadership of the United Textile Workers of America and calling upon the O. B. U. to organize a general committee to conduct the strike of operators, a from cotton and worsted mills that have not wages.

The resolution was preceded by criticism of the refusal of President Thomas F. McMahon of the U. T. W. to co-operate with Leeger and the O. B. U. in the strike direction. The gathering voted with only scattering dissent in favor of the resolution, and Leeger announced plans for forming a general strike committee.

The United Textile Workers, President McMahon said in a statement after the meeting, is now organizing a strike committee of its own which, when complete, will comprise five members of each craft involved.

Leeger's organization of a strike committee will be on different lines. It will represent the industry generally, he said, without distinction as to craft, and may be extended to represent other elements in the community.

The strike among into its second week today with no semblance of disturbance. Monday morning's opening, always a time for testing strength, came and went without contacts between workers and workers, although the former plotted the mill streets so numerously that sidewalks were impassable to other pedestrians.

Observers at the mill gates said that strike-operatives were at work than at the close of last week. The mill agents asserted that they had held their strength.

With the aid of a delatone paste, it is an easy matter for any woman to remove every trace of hair or fuzz from face, neck and arms. Enough of the powdered delatone and water is mixed into a thick paste and spread on the hairy surface for about 2 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. This completely removes the hair, but to avoid disappointment, get the delatone in an original package.

The Aftermath of Influenza

This is No. 1 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the air passages—such as Pneumonia, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued Cold—often leave these organs in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable foothold for invading germs. And how Vicks Vapo-Rub may be of value in this condition.

Your doctor will impress upon you that following recovery from the active stage of influenza, there often remains an inflamed, congested condition of the air passages—throat, larynx, bronchial tubes and lungs.

Frequently the cough hangs on—soreness of the chest persists—you take cold easily and there may be obstinate catarrh. This condition is slow to clear up and it neglected may favor the development of pneumonia, or later on, serious disease of the lungs.

Such cases should continue under the care of their physician—should exercise moderately in the open air—eat plain, wholesome food—avoid overwork and sudden chills.

Nightly applications of Vicks Vapo-Rub may help nature to complete the process of repair. Because Vicks acts locally by

CHANGES IN BUREAU OF PRINTING FOR "EFFICIENCY"

Washington, April 3.—Reorganization of the bureau of printing, and coming through the executive order issued last Friday by President Harding removing James L. Wilmett, its director and 25 other officials was explained today on the grounds of "efficiency" by Secretary Mellon. No charges involving the honesty of any of the dismissed bureau officials have been filed, the treasury secretary stated.

Mr. Mellon's explanation of the sweeping changes made in the administrative personnel of the bureau was the first official light thrown upon the president's action, since the announcement of the order at the White House. Meanwhile, speculation has been rife in official circles over the sudden removal of the officials and recollections were introduced in both the senate and house today seeking to elicit further information from the president.

Efforts to obtain a personal explanation for their dismissal were made by Mr. Wilmett and a delegation of former bureau officials who called at the White House, but without appointment, and therefore failed to see the president who was golfing. They left a memorandum stating the object of their visit and indicated they would return anytime Mr. Harding would see them, declaring they wanted to know why they were discharged and to have the opportunity of meeting any charges which might have been made against them who preferred them. They asserted they were at a complete loss to know why they were discharged.

Reorganization of the bureau heads according to Secretary Mellon came as a continuation of a number of investigations into the operation of the plant following complaints as to the efficiency of its operation. The seeming abruptness of the changes, he explained by the unexpectedness
